Dear Kevin,

I wanted to express my gratitude for your work in reducing our costs for oil changes, and also to bring you up to speed on the filter change cycle we are using with our 2000 engines.

We have our scheduled filter change set for 20,000 miles cycles, at which time we take an oil analysis and replace the filter. At your request, we have two units involved in testing your new grafting process. These two units have exceeded anything we thought might happen. The first unit has 123,481 miles and the second has 67,485 miles. We continue to operate these units with good oil analysis being returned to us. We have not modified our full flow filter replacement from the 80,000 mile cycle we have used for several years.

Sincerely,

Douglas R. Webb
