Dear Valued John Deere Customer:

PuraDYN customers frequently request clarification on how John Deere engine warranty is impacted by the installation and use of PuraDYN products. The mere installation of a PuraDYN product on a John Deere engine will not automatically void the engine warranty. However, the engine warranty will not apply if the installation and use of a PuraDYN or any other aftermarket product on a John Deere engine causes engine failures or problems.

The John Deere engine warranty solely applies to defects in John Deere material and/or factory workmanship. Therefore, if such a defect is observed, John Deere has the responsibility to repair or replace these parts and components as specified in the applicable warranty statement.

If you have further questions concerning the use of PuraDYN products on John Deere engines, please contact PuraDYN.

Sincerely,

Dale L. Puhmann
